The Premier National Honor Society for Nontraditional/Adult Students “First in Scholarship and Leadership”

Alpha Sigma Lambda, (ASL) the Premier National Honor Society for Nontraditional Adult Students, “First in Scholarship and Leadership” is an honor society which partners with colleges and universities to celebrate the scholarship and leadership of adult students in higher education. The honor society was founded in 1945 to “recognize the special achievements of adults who accomplish academic excellence while facing competing interests of family, community, and work” and is dedicated to the advancement of scholarship and recognizes high scholastic achievement in an adult student's career.

As the oldest and the largest, chapter-based honor society for full-time and part-time students and for the nontraditional student, the society stands as an inspiration for continued scholastic growth, a builder of pride through recognition and an incitation to associates with similarly motivated students. Through leadership born of effort, both scholastically and fraternally, Alpha Sigma Lambda inspires its candidates to give of their strengths to their fellow students and communities through their academic achievements and continuing scholastic growth.

For the chapter institutions, the society serves as a vehicle for imparting appreciation for adult students' academic achievements and contributions. Our chapter, Delta Lambda Pi, DePaul “Leaders and Professionals” was established in February, 2002, by former faculty member Keith Armstrong. Since our chapter's inception, SNL has inducted nearly four hundred fifty six (456) students. Today, with nearly 300 institutional chapters throughout the United States, Alpha Sigma Lambda presents institutions with a truly prestigious opportunity to recognize the special achievements of adults who accomplish academic excellence, while facing competing interests of family, community, and work.
